City of Wylie Recognized as Best Place to Work

Wylie, TX, June 23, 2014 – The City of Wylie has been named the 20th 2014 Best Place to Work, in the Medium Companies category, by the Dallas Business Journal. Wylie was the only city recognized in any category. The award was presented to City Manager Mindy Manson at a luncheon June 19, held at the Fairmont Dallas hotel in downtown Dallas.

This is the 12th year for the program, which awards those workplaces selected as “best” by independent firm Quantum Workplace. Quantum surveyed employees from each company, compiled data, tallied results and matched those results against national standards, according to information from DBJ.

“We were delighted to have our great organization recognized at this annual event,” Manson said. “The support that we receive from the city council makes our work meaningful and fulfilling, and that empowers our employees to deliver the excellent services that our community deserves.”

In all, 60 companies were honored, broken into small, medium and large categories based on the number of employees. Receiving the top three spots in the Medium Companies were Cushman & Wakefield of Texas Inc., Republic Title of Texas, and Pariveda Solutions.
