Duscio Named Wylie's Top Cop

Butters to Focus on Assistant City Manager Duties

Wylie, TX, January 4, 2008 – The City of Wylie is pleased to announce the promotion of John Duscio to Chief of Police. Chief Duscio has served as Assistant Chief of Police since joining the Wylie team June 4, 2007.

“Chief Duscio became an integral part of not just the Police Department but the entire organization from the moment he entered City Hall. He is dedicated to public service and committed to this community,” says Wylie City Manager Mindy Manson. “The City of Wylie’s Police Department is an extraordinary group of men and women who deserve a leader who will continue the level of excellence established by our former Chief and current Assistant City Manager Jeff Butters.”

“Over the past six months Duscio has shown that he’s an excellent leader,” says Assistant City Manager Jeff Butters, who has known Duscio for more than 13 years. “It’s tough relinquishing the duties of Police Chief, but knowing that ‘Duce’ is in charge makes it a little easier.”

Chief Duscio looks forward to putting his more than 20 years of law enforcement experience to work as Wylie’s Chief of Police.

“I am honored to be given the opportunity to serve with the men and women of the Wylie Police Department and the City of Wylie. I have been extremely impressed with the quality and character of not only the Police Department employees, but all of the city employees I have had the privilege to work with over the last six months,” said Chief Duscio. “Chief Butters has done an outstanding job building the department to where it is today...making
