

ENERGY CODE CERTIFICATION

This form is to certify that the structure listed below complies with the following requirements adopted by the Texas State Conservation Energy Office. Codified in 34 TAC §19.53. For single family homes - the energy efficiency provisions (Chapter 11) of the 2009 International Residential Code (IRC) will be in effect January 1 2012. For all other residential, commercial and industrial buildings use the 2009 International Energy Conservation Code (IECC).

When the structure does not actually comply with the Energy Code it shall be grounds for the City of Wylie to suspend or revoke my ability, as well as the ability of the company I represent, to certify that any future structures comply with the Energy code.
