Whereas, Coleman Taylor has earned the rank of Eagle Scout by the Boy Scouts of America; and

Whereas, the conferring of an Eagle Scout award is one of the highest honors bestowed upon a Boy Scout; and

Whereas, less than five percent of all Scouts attain this goal; and

Whereas, this achievement carries with it great honor and a commitment to continue to develop leadership skills and to serve as a guide and role model for both community and nation; and

Whereas, such an award is earned in that the recipient must perform and successfully complete and pass the rigid requirements exacted to achieve the Eagle Scout Award; and

Whereas, Coleman Taylor’s Eagle Scout service project was to organize a day of outdoor activities for 49 fourth- and fifth-grade Oak Cliff charter school students, many of whom have never spent time in the country.

Now, Therefore, the Mayor of the City of Wylie hereby extends his congratulations to Coleman Taylor for having an Eagle Scout award conferred upon him by the Boy Scouts of America.

In Recognition Therefore, I, Eric Hogue, Mayor of the City of Wylie, Texas, present this proclamation to Coleman Taylor, in honor of his achievement of attaining the rank of:

“Eagle Scout”

Eric Hogue, Mayor
City of Wylie
State of Texas
